

Library Lines

 what's new and what's special – in the library and on the web

*And let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, to which indeed you were called in one body. And be thankful.
Colossians 3:15*

This Prayer for Peace is based on a familiar verse, but seems particularly apt considering Pastor Brad's sermon series. I have usually applied this passage personally, but note that this passage is for the body, the church.

On Display this month in the library are "Hidden Gems" from our collection: special titles you didn't know we have!

MISSING FROM OUR LIBRARY! Are these at your house??

"On Race and Justice" is the name of our newest book list on our web page – look under New and Recommended. See also this short article from the Gospel Coalition, by Shai Linne, a real eye-opener, and more impactful for its irenic tone.

Don't recommend this book to your friends! Listen to this podcast instead. "Jen Hatmaker: Fierce and Free or Full of The Feels?"

And then, recommend one of these:

Unglued: Making Wise Choices in the Midst of Raw

Emotions (249.4TerKEURST) God gave us emotions to experience life, not destroy it! What do we do with these raw emotions? Is it really possible to make emotions work for us instead of against us? Yes!

Good News for Weary Women: Escaping the Bondage of To-Do Lists, Steps, and Bad Advice (249.4 FITZPATRICK) God doesn't judge us by how successful we are with our to-do lists. Instead, He calls us to faith. . . discover the true rest God offers.

Give Your Pastor Grace "If your pastor loves the Lord, is faithful to his wife, preaches Jesus from the Bible, don't hassle him. If he's imperfect in some ways, don't fix him. Who can flourish under that scrutiny? Instead, get down on your knees and thank God. He gave you your pastor (Eph 4:11-12)."